RE: Response to RFP# 59 Proposal to Provide Legal Services for The West Virginia Community Advancement and Development Office (WVCAD)

Dear Sir/Madam:

Balch & Bingham LLP ("Balch") appreciates the opportunity to submit the accompanying proposal to provide legal services to The West Virginia Community Advancement and Development Office (WVCAD). Balch is pleased to partner with Harper, Rains, Knight & Company, P.A. ("HRK") in providing the referenced services to WVCAD. Balch will be responsible for all legal services while HRK will provide the referenced monitoring services. Balch and HRK have provided similar services to the State of Mississippi on highly successful Katrina CDBG Disaster Relief programs. Balch has been the sole provider of legal services to the disaster recovery division of the Mississippi Development Authority ("MDA") since Katrina occurred on August 29, 2005. HRK has been the sole provider of integrity monitoring services to the State of Mississippi for its disaster relief programs since November 2008. This letter is incorporated into and forms an integral part of this proposal.

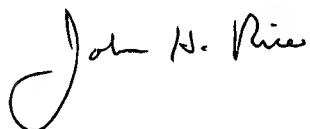

Please see the attached Joint Proposal for information specific to Balch's and HRK's experience and capabilities, along with each company's itemized responses to the RFP. Both Balch and HRK are entirely committed to providing WVCAD with professional, accurate and timely services on all assigned projects, and will take the measures necessary to accomplish this commitment.

Balch and HRK understand that initial training and ongoing education regarding the requirements of federal and state law, rules and regulations, and CDBG-DR policies and procedures are vital during the implementation and execution phases of the funded projects to ensure that such projects stay on track and are successfully completed within the required timeframes. Based on our previous experience in providing legal services and integrity monitoring services for the disaster recovery division of the MDA, we believe that we can be an invaluable asset to the WVCAD in providing an all-encompassing knowledge base. Balch and HRK propose to develop and integrate a successful program for the training of WVCAD and all vendor representatives, as well as subrecipients.

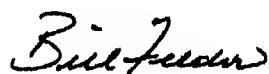

Balch and HRK believe our combined experience in providing the professional legal and integrity monitoring services delineated in this solicitation gives us the unique ability to deliver the high quality and professional legal and monitoring services requested by WVCAD.

We will be pleased to discuss the terms of this proposal with you at any time. We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

John Rice

HRK CAPABILITIES

HRK Response to RFP Item A

Support and assistance with oversight monitoring activities to review administrative, programmatic, and financial compliance with Federal and State Laws, regulations, and policies, including but not limited to: financial management, national objectives, citizen participation, environmental review records, procurement, labor standards, and fair housing and equal opportunity, as related to the CDBG-DR program.

PROJECT PLAN MANAGEMENT

HRK will develop and perform monitoring services by developing a project framework consisting of 4 phases: Planning, Education, Monitoring/Fieldwork and Reporting.

Phase I: Planning - The phase in which HRK will identify areas of risk and types of fraud that may occur depending on the project and/or services performed, develop procedures to prevent, deter and mitigate fraud, waste and abuse by entities doing business with WVCAD and facilitate the reporting of fraud, waste, abuse, illegal acts and improper conduct. We anticipate this phase will take place during the first two months and continue throughout the period of performance as additional planning becomes necessary.

Phase II: Education - The phase in which HRK will develop and conduct education and awareness training to WVCAD and entities conducting business with WVCAD. Training will include, but is not limited to, state and federal laws and regulations and individualized training covering program specific requirements. We anticipate this phase will take place primarily during the first four months of the period of performance with additional training provided as necessary when future projects are approved by WVCAD.

Phase III: Monitoring/Fieldwork - The phase in which HRK will implement procedures developed in Phase I to assist with monitoring/fieldwork and management of contractor/sub-recipients as required by 2 CFR 200 and monitor contractors and/or sub-recipient compliance with applicable federal and state laws, rules and regulations through inquiries, site visits, review of supporting documents and other related activities. We will also provide any forensic review and oversight requested by WVCAD. We anticipate this phase will begin immediately after applicable planning and education activities are completed and extend through the completion of each project close-out.

Phase IV: Reporting - The phase in which HRK will report instances of potential fraud, waste and abuse to the appropriate state and federal agencies, provide documentation and support for those instances and coordinate and cooperate, as necessary, with state and federal agencies conducting their investigations. HRK will provide interim reporting at the completion of each monitoring/fieldwork review. We anticipate this phase will run concurrently with the monitoring/fieldwork phase and extend to both reporting of individual projects to WVCAD officials as well as the overall reporting requirements of WVCAD to applicable state and federal officials.

HRK integrates into each of the phases all of the applicable Federal standards, including OMB requirements and GAO guidance, with particular attention paid to the uniform administrative requirements, costs principles and audit requirements for federal awards found in 2 CFR 200.

HRK will use Knowledge Coach Engagement working paper software to document our working papers. We integrate into each step the appropriate guidance and reference materials so that each step can be performed and reviewed effectively and efficiently.

Project Plan Management Phases

Phase I: Planning

Comprehensive planning is essential to the successful performance of monitoring functions. It incorporates gaining an initial understanding of the program and applicable federal and state laws, rules and regulations, reviewing approved projects, and discussions with WVCAD and other interested parties, including approved contractor/sub-recipient representatives, to ensure all user needs are incorporated into the development of our procedures.

Specific procedures to perform during Phase I consist of, but are not limited to:

- Establishing an open line of communication between HRK and WVCAD officials and other interested parties to gain an understanding of user needs and develop a clear course of action to meet those needs.
- Performing a risk assessment of the program and each contractor/sub-recipient entity to identify critical compliance requirements, performance measures to be tested and the types of fraud that may occur. Our assessment will include the review of action plans provided by WVCAD, which is essential in developing efficient monitoring programs.
- Develop a standardized monitoring program(s) to include appropriate compliance tests with applicable federal, state and The Continuing Appropriations Act of 2017 requirements such as inquiries of officials, walk-throughs of internal controls, inspection of documents and re-performance of work. Dual-testing will be used as allowed to increase efficiencies. The monitoring program will be flexible enough to allow for the modification and/or addition of procedures based on the size and complexity of the project and their various contractual obligations.
- Establish an open line of communication between HRK and contractor/sub-recipient entities doing business with WVCAD and review approved contracts to learn the specific requirements of each project in order to develop an individualized approach for monitoring each entity. Submit to WVCAD our monitoring program(s) for comment and approval and perform revisions, as necessary.
- Develop recommendations of internal monitoring guidelines, policies and procedures such as sample selection, percentage of completion performance checks and whistleblower response. Submit our recommendations to WVCAD for comment and approval.
- Develop a format for reporting results of monitoring procedures to WVCAD officials and submit for comment and approval.
- Finalize logistical arrangements including: assignment of appropriate staff, sending information requests to contractor/sub-recipient entities, identifying any confidentiality requirements of contractor/sub-recipient entity records, make necessary arrangements to meet with contractor/sub-recipient entities, and make any necessary travel arrangements.

Phase II: Education

Based on our previous experience monitoring the activities of sub-recipients for the Mississippi Development Authority - Disaster Recovery Division, ongoing education of requirements of federal and state laws, rules, and regulations is a vital step in ensuring projects remain on track to be completed within their individual periods of performance. In our experience, project managers, contractors and sub-recipients may be more focused on the end result of the project and less focused on the compliance details. HRK's ability to support WVCAD and project representatives and their overarching goals while insuring projects meet all their compliance requirements is the primary priority in Phase II.

Specific procedures to perform during Phase II consist of, but are not limited to:

- Develop a manual of all applicable laws and regulations and disburse to contractor/sub-recipient entities
- Develop a program for training that includes discussion of applicable laws and regulations, examples of proper support for information submitted to WVCAD and a question and answer session where contractor/sub-recipient entities may pose questions to the monitoring staff for project specific guidance.
- Conduct educational classes to ensure all WVCAD and contractor/sub-recipient entity representatives have an opportunity to attend.
- Provide each contractor/sub-recipient entity the approved monitoring program(s) and offer ongoing technical assistance and discuss any questions they may have regarding the monitoring of their individual contract.
- Consult with WVCAD and contractor/sub-recipient entities to provide additional educational classes on specific topics throughout the period of service, as necessary.

Phase III: Monitoring/Fieldwork

The monitoring/fieldwork phase is used to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for findings and conclusions. During this phase, evidence will be gathered to provide an independent assessment of each individual contractor/sub-recipient entity's compliance with relevant federal and state laws and regulations and The Continuing Appropriations Act of 2017 terms and conditions.

Specific procedures to perform during Phase III consist of, but are not limited to:

- Conduct preliminary inquiries in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws, rules and regulations.
- Conduct preliminary inquiries of indicated concerns to identify whether potential violations of applicable state and federal laws, rules and regulations may have occurred:
 - Perform a site visit to discuss with contractor/sub-recipient entities potential concerns.
 - Review documentation related to concerns to support any determinations of potential violations.
- Ensuring compliance with 2 CFR 200 through tests of controls and details, including but not limited to:

- Reviewing expenditures to ensure they were made in accordance with federal statutes, regulations and program terms, identify the source and application of funds for program activities, and determine other applicable cost principles were properly applied.
 - Selection of a sample of equipment and other capital expenditures and review to ensure purchases were within the scope of the project and therefore allowable under OMB guidance.
 - Policies and procedures include applicable record retention requirements.
- Review and analysis of documents submitted by contractor/sub-recipient entity to WVCAD, including but not limited to:
 - Reconciliation of their general ledger to monies paid and collected.
 - Ensuring actual expenditures are within budgeted amounts and explanations are obtained for any overages.
 - Selection of a sample of cash requests and inspecting invoices and other documents supporting reimbursements.
 - Selection of a sample of certified payroll reports and ensuring that wages agree to the Davis-Bacon wage rate determination.
 - Selection of a sample of procurement documents to ensure the proper procurement method is applied and applicable provisions are followed.
- Review approved contractor/sub-recipient entity contracts for project specific requirements outlined in the scope of services and develop individualized procedures for each project.
- At the request of contractor/sub-recipients, with the approval of WVCAD, provide on-site technical assistance to ensure proper application of procedures and appropriate supporting documentation is maintained.
- Perform an environmental review to ensure each contractor/sub-recipient entity is in compliance with applicable environmental, federal and state laws and regulations as determined by their funding source.
- Provide forensic accounting services, as necessary, when any potential fraud or abuse is discovered.

Phase IV: Reporting

Upon completion of monitoring/fieldwork review testing, HRK will inform WVCAD of completion and prepare and present our report (in a format approved by WVCAD) within 15 business days or other time period more acceptable to WVCAD. Should fieldwork extend indefinitely, HRK will informally report any issues identified immediately.

HRK will report specific findings of potential fraud, waste and abuse identified through fieldwork and forensic procedures to the appropriate federal and state agencies. Findings will include all relevant documentation necessary to support our conclusions of potential fraud, waste and abuse or violations of applicable federal and state laws, rules and regulations pertaining to restoration activities. HRK will also coordinate and cooperate with other authorized state and federal agencies in any independent investigations of fraud, waste and abuse.

HRK will conduct any exit conferences to explain our findings with WVCAD and contractor/sub-recipient entity officials, as necessary.

HRK will assist WVCAD with required reporting to applicable state and federal agencies and legislative bodies regarding performance measures and milestones and provide support for our monitoring services to official representatives in their oversight capacity, as requested.

Conclusion - The summarized project plan outlined above is consistent with the project plan used by HRK to assess risks, develop policies and procedures, educate relevant parties, implement monitoring services (standardized and specific) and report findings to appropriate government officials/agencies in providing similar services to the Mississippi Development Authority - Disaster Recovery Division from 2008 to present.

HRK Response to RFP Item B

Support and assistance with oversight and monitoring of vendors contracted by WVCAD for the CDBG and CDBG-DR program, including but not limited to: development and implementation of benchmarks as applicable, as well as quality improvement plans corrective actions, and other necessary oversight actions. Ensure that all vendors comply with all regulations governing their administrative, financial and programmatic operations and achieve their performance objectives on schedule and within budget.

PROJECT PLAN MANAGEMENT

HRK will develop and perform monitoring services by developing a project framework consisting of 4 phases: Planning, Education, Monitoring/Fieldwork and Reporting.

Phase I: Planning - The phase in which HRK will identify areas of risk and types of fraud that may occur depending on the project and/or services performed, develop procedures to prevent, deter and mitigate fraud, waste and abuse by entities doing business with WVCAD and facilitate the reporting of fraud, waste, abuse, illegal acts and improper conduct. We anticipate this phase will take place during the first two months and continue throughout the period of performance as additional planning becomes necessary.

Phase II: Education - The phase in which HRK will develop and conduct education and awareness training to WVCAD and entities conducting business with WVCAD. Training will include, but is not limited to, state and federal laws and regulations and individualized training covering program specific requirements. We anticipate this phase will take place primarily during the first four months of the period of performance with additional training provided as necessary when future projects are approved by WVCAD.

Phase III: Monitoring/Fieldwork - The phase in which HRK will implement procedures developed in Phase I to assist with monitoring/fieldwork and management of vendors as required by 2 CFR 200 and monitor vendor compliance with applicable federal and state laws, rules and regulations through inquiries, site visits, review of supporting documents and other related activities. We will also provide any forensic review and oversight requested by WVCAD. We anticipate this phase will begin immediately after applicable planning and education activities are completed and extend through the completion of each project close-out.

Phase IV: Reporting - The phase in which HRK will report instances of potential fraud, waste and abuse to the appropriate state and federal agencies, provide documentation and support for those instances and coordinate and cooperate, as necessary, with state and federal agencies conducting their investigations. HRK will provide interim reporting at the completion of each monitoring/fieldwork review. We anticipate this phase will run concurrently with the monitoring/fieldwork phase and extend to both reporting of individual projects to WVCAD officials as well as the overall reporting requirements of WVCAD to applicable state and federal officials.

HRK integrates into each of the phases all of the applicable Federal standards, including OMB requirements and GAO guidance, with particular attention paid to the uniform administrative requirements, costs principles and audit requirements for federal awards found in 2 CFR 200.

HRK will use Knowledge Coach Engagement working paper software to document our working papers. We integrate into each step the appropriate guidance and reference materials so that each step can be performed and reviewed effectively and efficiently.

Project Plan Management Phases

Phase I: Planning

Comprehensive planning is essential to the successful performance of monitoring functions. It incorporates gaining an initial understanding of the program and applicable federal and state laws, rules and regulations, reviewing approved projects, and discussions with WVCAD and other interested parties, including approved vendor representatives, to ensure all user needs are incorporated into the development of our procedures.

Specific procedures to perform during Phase I consist of, but are not limited to:

- Establishing an open line of communication between HRK and WVCAD officials and other interested parties to gain an understanding of user needs and develop a clear course of action to meet those needs.
- Performing a risk assessment of the program and each vendor to identify critical compliance requirements, performance measures to be tested and the types of fraud that may occur. Our assessment will include the review of action plans provided by WVCAD, which is essential in developing efficient monitoring programs.
- HRK will conduct an initial conference with vendor representatives to determine benchmarks for monitoring and set timelines for future site visits, which will ensure that each vendor receives individualized program goals tailored to their specific program objectives.
- Develop a standardized monitoring program(s) to include appropriate compliance tests with applicable federal, state and The Continuing Appropriations Act of 2017 requirements such as inquiries of officials, walk-throughs of internal controls, inspection of documents and re-performance of work. Dual-testing will be used as allowed to increase efficiencies. The monitoring program will be flexible enough to allow for the modification and/or addition of procedures based on the size and complexity of the project and their various contractual obligations.
- Establish an open line of communication between HRK and vendors doing business with WVCAD and review approved contracts to learn the specific requirements of each project in order to develop an individualized approach for monitoring each entity. Submit to WVCAD our monitoring program(s) for comment and approval and perform revisions, as necessary.
- Develop recommendations of internal monitoring guidelines, policies and procedures such as sample selection, percentage of completion performance checks and whistleblower response. Submit our recommendations to WVCAD for comment and approval.
- Develop a format for reporting results of monitoring procedures to WVCAD officials and submit for comment and approval.

- Finalize logistical arrangements including: assignment of appropriate staff, sending information requests to vendors, identifying any confidentiality requirements of vendor records, make necessary arrangements to meet with vendors, and make any necessary travel arrangements.

Phase II: Education

Based on our previous experience monitoring the activities of subrecipients for the Mississippi Development Authority - Disaster Recovery Division, ongoing education of requirements of federal and state laws, rules, and regulations is a vital step in ensuring projects remain on track to be completed within their individual periods of performance. In our experience, project managers and vendors may be more focused on the end result of the project and less focused on the compliance details. HRK's ability to support WVCAD and project representatives and their overarching goals while insuring projects meet all their compliance requirements is the primary priority in Phase II.

Specific procedures to perform during Phase II consist of, but are not limited to:

- Develop a manual of all applicable laws and regulations and disburse to vendors.
- Develop a program for training that includes discussion of applicable laws and regulations, examples of proper support for information submitted to WVCAD and a question and answer session where vendors may pose questions to the monitoring staff for project specific guidance.
- Conduct educational classes to ensure all WVCAD and vendor representatives have an opportunity to attend.
- Provide each vendor with the approved monitoring program(s) and offer ongoing technical assistance and discuss any questions they may have regarding the monitoring of their individual contract.
- Consult with WVCAD and vendors to provide additional educational classes on specific topics throughout the period of service, as necessary.

Phase III: Monitoring/Fieldwork

The monitoring/fieldwork phase is used to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for findings and conclusions. During this phase, evidence will be gathered to provide an independent assessment of each vendor's compliance with relevant federal and state laws and regulations and The Continuing Appropriations Act of 2017 terms and conditions.

Specific procedures to perform during Phase III consist of, but are not limited to:

- Conduct preliminary inquiries in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws, rules and regulations.
- Conduct preliminary inquiries of indicated concerns to identify whether potential violations of applicable state and federal laws, rules and regulations may have occurred:
 - Perform a site visit to discuss with vendors potential concerns.
 - Review documentation related to concerns to support any determinations of potential violations.
- HRK will meet with vendor representatives during site visits and perform the following monitoring services: review benchmarks and determine if those benchmarks are still attainable or if they should be revised; discuss any obstacles that may have hindered meeting benchmark objectives; and provide technical assistance as needed to address any potential concerns or procedures.

- Ensuring compliance with 2 CFR 200 through tests of controls and details, including but not limited to:
 - Reviewing expenditures to ensure they were made in accordance with federal statutes, regulations and program terms, identify the source and application of funds for program activities, and determine other applicable cost principles were properly applied.
 - Selection of a sample of equipment and other capital expenditures and review to ensure purchases were within the scope of the project and therefore allowable under OMB guidance.
 - Policies and procedures include applicable record retention requirements.
- Review and analysis of documents submitted by vendor to WVCAD, including but not limited to:
 - Reconciliation of their general ledger to monies paid and collected.
 - Ensuring actual expenditures are within budgeted amounts and explanations are obtained for any overages.
 - Selection of a sample of cash requests and inspecting invoices and other documents supporting reimbursements.
 - Selection of a sample of certified payroll reports and ensuring that wages agree to the Davis-Bacon wage rate determination.
 - Selection of a sample of procurement documents to ensure the proper procurement method is applied and applicable provisions are followed.
- HRK will perform a review of vendor compliance with applicable laws and regulations on an ongoing basis to identify any deficiencies or potential areas of deficiency to ensure vendor compliance.
- Review approved vendor contracts for project specific requirements outlined in the scope of services and develop individualized procedures for each project.
- At the request of vendors, with the approval of WVCAD, provide on-site technical assistance to ensure proper application of procedures and appropriate supporting documentation is maintained.
- Perform an environmental review to ensure each vendor is in compliance with applicable environmental, federal and state laws and regulations as determined by their funding source.
- Provide forensic accounting services, as necessary, when any potential fraud or abuse is discovered.

Phase IV: Reporting

Upon completion of monitoring/fieldwork review testing, HRK will inform WVCAD of completion and prepare and present our report (in a format approved by WVCAD) within 15 business days or other time period more acceptable to WVCAD. Should fieldwork extend indefinitely, HRK will informally report any issues identified immediately.

HRK will report specific findings of potential fraud, waste and abuse identified through fieldwork and forensic procedures to the appropriate federal and state agencies. Findings will include all relevant documentation necessary to support our conclusions of potential fraud, waste and abuse or violations of applicable federal and state laws, rules and regulations pertaining to restoration activities. HRK will also coordinate and cooperate with other authorized state and federal agencies in any independent investigations of fraud, waste and abuse.

HRK will conduct any exit conferences to explain our findings with WVCAD and vendor officials, as necessary.

HRK will provide technical assistance for the preparation of corrective action plans to address any monitoring concerns. HRK will also provide, on an as needed basis, quality improvement suggestions based on our past experience with similar projects to assist the vendor in meeting their national objective in the most efficient and effective way possible.

HRK will assist WVCAD with required reporting to applicable state and federal agencies and legislative bodies regarding performance measures and milestones and provide support for our monitoring services to official representatives in their oversight capacity, as requested.

Conclusion

The summarized project plan outlined above is consistent with the project plan used by HRK to assess risks, develop policies and procedures, educate relevant parties, implement monitoring services (standardized and specific) and report findings to appropriate government officials/agencies in providing similar services to the Mississippi Development Authority - Disaster Recovery Division from 2008 to present.

EXPERIENCE WITH PROJECTS OF SIMILAR SCOPE AND REFERENCES

Harper, Rains, Knight and Company, P.A. (HRK), is a qualifying small business concern, that was established in 1994 through the merger of two local CPA firms that had been in existence for over 30 years, and has over 30 years of federal and state government audit and consulting experience, including experience performing agreed upon procedures and other engagements which are similar in scope and complexity to tasks contemplated in this solicitation. Currently, HRK provides accounting, auditing, financial and tax planning services, and business consulting for more than 1,800 clients in 20 states. These clients include individuals, partnerships, corporations, non-profit groups, employee benefit plans, and governmental organizations which range in size from a small retailer with two employees to a federal government agency employing over 22,000.

The Firm is currently providing professional monitoring services for the Mississippi Development Authority - Disaster Recovery Division ("MDA-DRD"). The scope of our services includes monitoring contractor compliance and performance measures including federal financial management, environmental review records, procurement, labor standards, fair housing/equal opportunity and closeout requirements. The contractor monitoring originally included (1) small rental assistance, (2) long-term workforce housing, (3) public housing, (4) project management, (5) and homeowners' assistance program. The sub-recipient monitoring originally included monitoring compliance with federal and state laws, regulations and internal policies for over 250 grant sub-recipients. However, these services were significantly expanded over the terms of the contracts.

HRK has performed agreed upon procedures on Davis Bacon Wage Surveys, contractor wage information for developing prevailing wage rates, for the Wage & Hour Division of the Department of Labor, desk reviews of Form EIA-28 energy company financial and operating data submissions, completeness testing of Form LS-513 Report of Longshoremen workers' compensation payments, and assisted the Social Security Administration evaluate Consent Based Social Security Number Verification (CBSV) service users' compliance with the User Agreement requirements and implement improvements to the requirements and procedures related to the CBSV.

Additionally, HRK professionals manage and perform approximately 35 internal audit (monitoring over operational and credit compliance requirements) engagements annually for financial institutions. Over the past 12 years, HRK has completed over 350 of these internal audit engagements.

We understand and have demonstrated through our past performance an understanding of monitoring and internal audit and agreed upon procedure engagements and how to successfully manage and conduct the projects/tasks requested by WVCAD. HRK performs Katrina Community Development Block Grant monitoring services for the Mississippi Development Authority-Disaster Recovery Division ("MDA") for four federally funded programs; 1) Sub-recipient Monitoring program, 2) Vendor Monitoring program, 3) Port of Gulfport Restoration program, and 4) Infrastructure program. For each program listed above, HRK monitors compliance with federal and state laws, regulations and policies related to MDA's Disaster Recovery programs, including but not limited to, financial management, national objectives, citizen participation, environmental review records, procurement, labor standards and fair housing, Section 3 standards and equal opportunity. Notably, HRK was instrumental and extensively involved in the creation and implementation of the State's Section 3 Compliance Program, which it continues to oversee and monitor with MDA-Mississippi Disaster Recovery Division. HRK has demonstrated experience working with external partners and the MDA related to federal single audits on an annual basis.

HRK was initially awarded this contract in November, 2008 to provide professional monitoring services to the State of Mississippi and the Mississippi Development Authority ("MDA") in its ongoing Hurricane Katrina Disaster Recovery programs. The professional monitoring services provided include monitoring of sub-recipients and vendors. Disaster Recovery Community Development Block Grant ("CDBG") monitoring services are provided to review sub-recipients' and vendors' (currently contracted by MDA's Disaster Recovery program) compliance with federal and state laws, regulations and policies including, but not limited to, financial management, national objectives, citizen participation, environmental review records, procurement, labor standards and fair housing, Section 3 standards and equal employment opportunity.

This contract was re-competed in 2012 after four years and HRK was re-awarded the contract in January 2013. In addition, two additional tasks, the Port of Gulfport project monitoring and infrastructure project monitoring have been added to this task since it was re-awarded.

Beginning in November, 2013, HRK was assigned the additional responsibility of monitoring the Port of Gulfport Restoration program's and the Infrastructure program's compliance with federal and state laws, regulations and policies including, but not limited to, those related to financial management, national objectives, citizen participation, environmental review records, procurement, labor standards and fair housing, Section 3 standards and equal employment opportunity.

HRK has been extensively involved in providing technical assistance in all monitoring areas identified above to sub-grantees state wide. HRK has partnered with MDA in serving as a liaison between the sub-grantees and HUD in successfully resolving numerous impediments encountered throughout various phases of the sub-grants.

This project involves multiple tasks occurring simultaneously performed by multiple individuals (approximately 4-8 employees year round), and requires travel obligations to complete projects within the State of Mississippi).

The table below compares anticipated WVCAD tasks and specific examples of similar work performed for MDA to support HRK's level of experience and expertise that we can provide to WVCAD.

HRK has worked on a special project for the Wage and Hour Division of DOL to perform agreed upon procedure (AUP) engagements to verify the accuracy of Form WD-10's filed by construction contractors, unions and other third parties. These forms are filed in voluntary wage surveys and are used to assist the Department in determining the prevailing construction wage rates under the Davis-Bacon Act. During that period we have worked on almost three hundred fifty (350) surveys involving visits to over 3,000 construction contractors. This project includes onsite visits to the contractors' offices to verify the information on the WD-10 Forms filed, by comparing the forms to the contractor's payroll records, contract files and other information.

Based upon an initial project performed by the U.S. Department of Labor, Office of Inspector General, Atlanta Regional Office, HRK developed the programs and procedures used to verify Davis-Bacon WD-10 survey results. The electronic database program organizes and allows us to efficiently perform the major stages of each survey verification project, including scheduling, contractor visitations and reporting. Upon receipt of the initial information from the Wage and Hour Division, HRK is responsible for developing a site visit strategy and then notifying and coordinating with contractors to perform the onsite visits. The work we perform is one of the final steps for the Wage & Hour Division in conducting a survey; therefore, it is important that our services are performed as quickly as possible in order to assist the Wage and Hour Division in the completion of the survey.

HRK (and its predecessor firm) has worked on a special project for the Division of Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation of the U.S. Department of Labor to verify the accuracy of filings by insurance carriers and self-insured employers regarding benefit payments disbursed under the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act. To date, we have performed more than 275 on-site reviews of carrier and self-insured employer filings, representing reported compensation payments in excess of several billion dollars. Additionally, we have reconciled in excess of 300,000 active and closed cases comparing the data with the carrier's data at these carrier locations. During the years 1990 through June, 2016, HRK has identified unreported compensation payments of approximately $70 million and reported these to the Longshore Division based on the results of procedures performed by HRK.

HRK developed the Longshore Project Data Matching Handbook which is updated annually and furnished to each staff member upon assignment to this project. This handbook documents the internal procedures utilized by HRK and internal file maintenance in the HRK network relating to the matching of carrier data with the Longshore Program data.

Beginning in 2012, HRK has been awarded contracts in four (4) successive years to perform audits (agreed upon procedures in the first two years) of compliance by users of the Consent Based SSN Verification System with their user agreement with SSA. The most recent contract awarded in August, 2015 involved performance audits of 81 entities for 2 fiscal years. This required 143 performance audits completed during the 175 day contract period. The 2014 contract required audit of 70 CBSV users over a 150 day contract period. The 2012 and 2013 contracts were agreed upon procedures engagements and involved 17 CBSV users in 2012 and 46 CBSV users in 2013. Each of these engagements required determination of the entities' compliance with requirements set out in the users' agreement with the Social Security Administration. The tight time lines required on these engagements demonstrate HRK's ability to complete work according to contractual requirements without requiring extensions of time.

This project involves auditing numerous third party entities. The work for this project occurs throughout the United States and requires efficiency in scheduling and performance. Work for these tasks must be completed while onsite. This past project required that HRK maintain a professional working relationship with entities that were required to have the audits performed. Accordingly, this supports HRK's ability to work professional and cordially with sometimes unwilling auditees.

HRK has consistently been awarded the SSA contract with each re-competition of these services that has occurred since 2012. Since this was the initial compliance review contracted by SSA, this project involved developing the review planning guide, programs, and reporting templates. The project also involved recommending improvements to the User Agreement and compliance criteria (assertions), developing compliance/noncompliance standards for the criteria, designing the independent CPA attestation expectation, and recommending a sampling strategy for the attestation engagements.

Explanation of HRK's Staff Levels

Our professional personnel include staff accountants, senior accountants, managers, senior managers, paraprofessionals and directors (owners). Senior accountants would be equivalent to lead auditors as the term is often used in the CPA industry. The members of the firm assigned to an engagement work as a team. Each member is responsible for certain areas of the engagement. The engagement director has final responsibility for the timely and successful completion of the engagement. In addition to review by the manager and the engagement director, each engagement is reviewed by another director who has no other active participation in that particular engagement. This objective review must be completed before the firm's report is released and is an important part of the firm's quality assurance program.

Staff accountants work under the close supervision of a senior accountant as they perform the basic assignments given them. Their work is specifically selected and assigned on the basis of their level of experience and supervised by professionals with greater experience. They are familiar with accounting and auditing procedures and must exercise professional judgment and discretion in the application of these procedures.

Senior accountants assume in-charge responsibility on most field engagements and are thoroughly qualified in the techniques of accounting and auditing. They are responsible for detailed planning of engagements and preliminary workpaper reviews. The senior accountants have the responsibility for supervising and training of staff accountants working with them. Senior accountants generally must have had three years of experience as a staff accountant during which period of time they have demonstrated the ability to perform progressively more difficult assignments as well as demonstrate the ability to supervise and assist staff accountants with less experience working on engagements with them.

Managers and senior managers work directly under the directors of the firm and are second only to them in authority and responsibility. Their responsibility involves overall planning, organization, supervision and completion of several simultaneous client engagements, under the supervision of the engagement director. They also have direct responsibility for workpaper and financial statement review.

Directors - The final responsibility for all firm activities rests with the Directors. Four (4) of the firm's seven (7) directors have extensive accounting and auditing experience. Responsibility of individual directors varies from supervising engagements to administration. Each director has areas of technical and industry specialization.

PROJECT TEAM, RESOURCES AND RESUMES

Project Team and Resumes

HRK understands that the key to exceptional service is having the right people on the right engagement. HRK offers the sound performance of a knowledgeable firm that reaches beyond traditional auditing services. The staff assigned to conduct the engagement will collectively possess more than adequate professional proficiency for the tasks required. The success of any project is directly related to the quality and dedication of the engagement team. HRK has a sufficient number of professional personnel with a vast amount of knowledge and experience in providing monitoring services for governmental organizations.

HRK employs professionals in two distinct geographical locations that are available to execute the requirements of this proposal. Along with our Ridgeland, MS office's experience with the Mississippi Development Authority, HRK's Washington, DC office has extensive experience in executing compliance reviews over governmental spending. Our DC staff currently performs financial statement audits of four Federal government agencies, applying extensive procedures over compliance and internal control. In addition to financial statement audits, the DC office is responsible for executing various monitoring services for Federal agencies, including the Department of Labor, the Department of Defense, and the Social Security Administration. All engagements are performed under Government Auditing Standards.

Our DC office is centrally located inside Washington with quick access to Reagan National Airport, which offers daily direct flights to Charleston. Such options should offer effective solutions for meeting the needs of WVCAD and allow for cost savings to the agency.

A mix of key personnel and non-key personnel will be assigned to each project based on our risk assessments and the size/complexity of the project. HRK commits to assigning the best team for each assigned project and to maintaining consistency of the team members throughout the contract.

BALCH CAPABILITIES

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

John Rice, Ann Bailey and other Balch & Bingham LLP attorneys have provided legal services related to Katrina CDBG disaster recovery programs since the creation and implementation of the original Mississippi Action Plan. Congress allocated $5.4 billion in CDBG disaster funds to the State of Mississippi. Mr. Rice and Ms. Bailey have provided legal services for the creation and implementation of all housing, infrastructure and economic development programs. Housing programs, representing 62.5% of the allocation, include Elevation Grant, Homeowners Assistance, Long Term Workforce Housing, Small Rental Assistance, Neighborhood Home, Public Housing, Inspector Grant, Fraud Grant, and Ratepayer/Windpool Mitigation Programs. Programs involving replacement and expansion of infrastructure, representing 21.4% of the allocation, include Community Revitalization, Gulf Coast Regional Infrastructure, Hancock County Long-Term Recovery, Go Zone Program, Planning Grants and 2008 Disaster Grants. Economic Development, representing 13.9% of the allocation, includes Hancock County Long Term Recovery, Port of Gulfport Restoration, Tourism, and Katrina Economic Development specific grants.

Balch has been involved in all aspects of drafting documents, reviewing and providing advice on procurement issues, working with units of local government and other subrecipients of CDBG funds, addressing issues concerning compliance, interpretation and application of state and federal rules and regulations, including HUD CDBG regulations, reviewing conflict of interest issues, meetings with HUD and OIG regarding monitoring, findings and concerns, and working with various state and federal agencies. In connection with the programs outlined above, Mr. Rice and Ms. Bailey have worked with the Katrina Fraud Task Force, consisting of Office of the State Auditor, FBI, and the U.S. Attorneys' Office. In addition, Mr. Rice and Ms. Bailey represented the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency on the highly successful Katrina Cottage Program (Alternative Housing Pilot Program) funded by FEMA. Both Mr. Rice and Ms. Bailey have been presenters at HUD disaster recovery training conferences, as well as the Council of State Community Development Agencies. Mr. Rice has also produced legal articles on CDBG compliance and disaster recovery issues.

In addition to expertise with disaster relief/recovery programs, Balch has a full complement of attorneys poised to assist clients with various other legal services, including litigation. Ms. Bailey is a seasoned litigator and has been involved in pursuit of administrative and civil remedies against grant recipients/subrecipients who have violated the terms of their grant agreements. Ms. Bailey and Mr. Rice work closely with Mississippi's Special Assistant Attorney Generals assigned to the disaster recovery division and the litigation section of the Office of Attorney General. Other Balch attorneys and staff have joined the team from time to time in order to provide necessary support in other areas.

BALCH RESPONSES TO RFP ITEMS C-G

RFP ITEM C. REVIEW AND/OR DRAFT CONTRACTS WITH CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTORS, INSPECTORS, ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS, AND OTHER SERVICE PROVIDERS.

Balch has performed review and/or drafting of contracts for various types of service providers, including but not limited to the following MDA disaster recovery programs: Homeowners Assistance, Small Rental Assistance, Neighborhood Home, Long Term Work Force Housing, Gulf Coast Regional Infrastructure, Economic Development, and Port of Gulfport Restoration Programs.

In addition, Balch has performed such services in connection with the FEMA-funded Katrina Cottage Program (Alternative Housing Pilot Program) and, currently, for the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) land acquisition program related to the BP oil spill grant programs.

Balch is knowledgeable of all provisions required by HUD to be included in disaster recovery/relief contracts pursuant to CDBG regulations.

RFP ITEM D. PROVIDE ADVICE ON PROCUREMENT ISSUES; REVIEW AND ENSURE COMPLIANCE WITH STATE AND FEDERAL PROCUREMENT STATUTES AND REGULATIONS.

Over the past twelve (12) years, Balch has provided advice to MDA (the Mississippi equivalent to WVCAD), other state agencies, counties, municipalities, non-profits and other clients regarding state and federal procurement laws and regulations to assure compliance with same. On behalf of MDA, Balch has reviewed and evaluated recipient's and subrecipient's compliance with state and federal procurement laws in connection with MDA's disaster relief and recovery grant programs. All Balch team members have extensive experience with state procurement law.

Balch has also successfully represented the State of Mississippi regarding procurement issues in conjunction with HUD monitoring and OIG oversight.

RFP ITEM E. REPRESENT WVCAD IN LITIGATION

Litigation Avoidance. Balch has been instrumental in providing legal support to defend MDA and its disaster relief and recovery programs against attack by outside groups. Since the inception of the programs in 2005, few lawsuits have been brought against MDA or even threatened to be brought. The primary reason for this is because of the diligent efforts of the Balch team. The CDBG disaster recovery programs have been subjected to rigorous review by HUD's Office of Inspector General. From 2005 until 2017, the Mississippi programs were undergoing continuous review by federal entities. With the assistance of the Balch team, MDA has emerged from such audits with very few findings.

Litigation Support. Balch has a team of experienced litigators. Balch's firm litigation practice handles a wide variety of disputes. Balch attorneys appear successfully in state and federal courthouses throughout the country and before arbitration panels throughout the country and throughout a series of industries. Our experience covers almost every area of the law and ranges from complex commercial litigation to personal injury and products liability. Our litigators are frequent instructors in trial workshops and a number of our litigators are listed in The Best Lawyers in America, including in the new category of the "Bet The Company" litigators and listed in Chambers USA, America's Leading Lawyers for Business.

Balch is currently handling litigation related to subrecipients' non-compliance with MS disaster relief programs to recover CDBG funds and place the State in a legally defensible position with HUD. Balch, by assignment from the State Attorney General's office, also handles defense of litigation in which MDA is a named defendant. Balch is presently serving as co-counsel on the State's lawsuits against insurers regarding alleged underpayment of homeowners' hazard insurance claims resulting in overpayment from the CDBG-funded Homeowners' Assistance Program. These lawsuits are currently ongoing.

RFP ITEM F. PROVIDE ADVICE ON OTHER VARIOUS ISSUES, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO: COMPLIANCE MATTERS, REAL OR POTENTIAL CONFLICT OF INTEREST SITUATIONS, STATUTE
INTERPRETATION AND LEGAL INTERPRETATIONS AS NEEDED.

Over the past twelve (12) years, Balch has routinely provided advice to MDA, other state agencies, counties, municipalities, non-profits and other clients regarding a myriad of issues related to Hurricane Katrina, including, but not limited to program design and implementation, compliance matters and corrective actions related to same, conflict of interest situations, transactional matters, interpretation of state and federal statutes and provision of legal opinions on a wide array of matters.

Balch has a full complement of attorneys available and ready to assist with the above outlined services, as needed.

RFP ITEM G. PROVIDE SUCH OTHER LEGAL SERVICES AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY WVCAD FROM TIME TO TIME.

In addition to the Balch team members referenced in this response, Balch has a full complement of attorneys available and ready to assist WVCAD. We are confident that we can meet any legal needs of WVCAD concerning the design, implementation and related issues of any and all CDBG programs.

Balch's track record with MDA is demonstrative of our experience and abilities in the area of CDBG disaster recovery programs.
